TGen Dragonomics had its inaugural season last year at the Arizona Dragon Boat Festival. The team represents a diverse group of employees at the Translational Genomics Research Institute (TGen), including lab and administrative personnel. Our mission is to translate scientific discoveries into improved healthcare for patients with cancer and other diseases. At TGen, scientists are pushing the limits of cutting-edge research and technology to discover the genetic cause of disease. TGen's labs are staffed by teams of researchers focused on making genomic discoveries in common diseases and disorders in the areas of oncology, neurogenomics, and metabolic disease. We look forward to competing in our first out-of-state race in San Diego.
